

REACHability Foundation

To whom it may concern,

My name is Joclynn Benjamin and I am the owner of a Program in Los Angeles that offers therapy and recreational services to individuals with Autism among many other disabilities.

I also have a non-profit organization called REACHability Foundation which offers supported travel experiences for those families traveling with special needs children and young adults. This summer we will be coming to Ireland and while we are here, we would like to be able to meet up with other families from Ireland and participate in an activity together. The families that travel are very interested in the ability to connect with the local special needs community. I came across a website that lead me to your email address and I would love the opportunity to see if we could arrange something in early August 2016. Please let me know if this is something that is possible. The families I am traveling with have sons and daughters who are teens and young adults so we are hoping to connect with that age group.

I am including a link to a documentary we did of one of our past international travels with families to give you an idea of who my group is and what we do. <https://youtu.be/KUODaAijv2w>

I do hope to hear from you soon,

Joclynn Benjamin
